

YOUNG GENERATIONS

In partnership with the Erie County Probation Department

What is Young Generations?

Young Generations is an arts-centered restorative justice program for youth ages 13-19. Participants are given the opportunity to work with local professional artists, practice various art forms, and develop 21st century skills within a safe and educational environment.

How It Works

This after school program meets in-person at the Young Audiences office, located in the Buffalo & Erie County Public Library (Downtown location), every Thursday, 4:00 p.m.-5:30 p.m. and operates year-round. NFTA Day passes are provided to youth for transportation to and from the program. Snacks provided.

Why Join?

- One-on-one check-ins with trained staff
- Exposure to different artforms
- Workforce and Professional Development Opportunities
- Workshops led by professional teaching artists
- Inclusive and safe environment

Art Forms

- Recording Arts
- Filmmaking
- Book Arts
- Poetry
- Dance
- Fashion Design
- Photography
- Theater
- Visual Arts
- And more!

Referrals

Youth referrals are accepted from the Erie County Probation Department. Referrals can be faxed to (716) 408-3279. To view the monthly program schedule, visit yawny.org/young-generations

Young Generations is presented with support from many generous supporters, including:

Council on the Arts

Learn more: yawny.org/young-generations or email us at info@yawny.org

Young Audiences
Western New York
Arts for Learning!

yawny.org

